

Farmers' Department.

Mr. Mechi, the great English farmer, whose root crops are the wonder of all beholders, recommends the following method of packing and storing roots which is quite unlike that which prevails with American farmers:

"It is the greatest possible mistake to store root in a dry condition, and free from soil; they die and then rot, the same as we ourselves should when our vitality had departed. So it is with our moral improvement; we wrestle fiercely with a vicious habit, which would have no hold upon us if we ascend into higher moral atmosphere. It is by adding to our good purposes, and nourishing the affections which are rightly placed, that we shall be able to combat the bad ones."

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Compt.

Treasury Notes, payable in three years from August 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and one-half per cent, per annum—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six-pence, gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from that date, as the Government may elect.

They will be issued in denominations of $100, $400, $500, $1,000, $2,000, $3,000, and $4,000, and all subscriptions must be for any sum or multiple of $100.

The rates will be remitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original certificates of deposit as may be practicable.

As the notes draw interest from August 1st, persons making deposits subsequently to that date must pay the full cost, instead of date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent, which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, estimated to be the value with which the deposit was made. No deduction for bank charges will be made.
